In Memoriam

Kim Wehmeyer

Kim Wehmeyer, a senior at Hellgate High School, drowned in the Clark Fork River on July 4, 1973. He was born in Brewster, WA. and lived in Winthrop and Yakima, WA. before moving with his family to Missoula in 1965. He enrolled in Hellgate High School and was a member of the football team. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wehmeyer, 906 26th Ave.

Top Twenty

Kathy Holden

Belle Houseman

Top Twenty is comprised of whiz kid seniors who achieved the highest academic records in their four years of high school.

Kathy Holden became number one senior with a brilliant 3.95 grade point average followed closely by Belle Houseman with a 3.94.

The Top Twenty ranking is a result of seven semesters of the blood, sweat and tears of our 20 scholars who strove on, with hardy perseverance, to attain their present position. The final semester grades of the senior year are excluded.

The Top Twenty students are listed in the correct ranking with their four-year cumulative grade point average.

1. Kathy Holden 3.95
2. Belle Houseman 3.94
3. Kathleen Magone 3.91
4. Ethan Bier 3.91
5. Caroline Patterson 3.90

Tara Gallagher, our girl in Washington.

Girls Nation

Tara Gallagher was one of two girls in the state to receive the honor of attending, as a senator, Girls Nation, in Washington, D.C. In Washington, Tara attended the sessions of the U.S. Senate, followed by mock sessions conducted by Girls Nation.

Tara was elected to Girls Nation by her fellow Girls State delegates at their convention in Helena.

Girls State

Girls State delegate Tara Gallagher was elected to attend Girls Nation in Washington, D.C. as a senator.

Hellgate girls elected to governmental positions at Girls State were Emily Clubb, commissioner; Barb Koostra, honor guard; Caroline Patterson, supreme court justice, and Kathy Salmonson, dogcatcher.

Delegates campaigned for offices such as governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, and commissioner. Elected girls performed the duties of these particular offices in their fictional state and local governments.

Girls State took place June 3-9 at Carroll College in Helena. The purpose of the event was to familiarize girls from all over Montana with the operation of state and city governments.

Boys Nation

Elected by fellow Boys State members, Al Warner was one of two boys from Montana to become a Boys State Senator. The Senators went to Washington D.C. to attend the mock sessions of Boys Nation, to listen to speeches by local congressmen, to attend movies and generally improve their knowledge of American government through firsthand experience.

Boys State

Developments at Boys State this year were: Delegate Al Warner was one of two boys from the entire Boys State to be elected to Boys Nation. There were enough funds available to send alternate Dan Hunter along.

Boys State delegates Jerry Barker, Fred Carl, Frank Gaul, Doug Golie, Ron Hilton, Dan Hunter, and Al Warner met June 10-16 with the other 400 delegates at Western Montana College in Dillon. There, the delegates had one week in which to campaign in mock elections for offices in city and state governments and learn more about the politics on a state level.

Malfrid

Malfrid Bratveit, AFS exchange student from Norway, spent her senior year at Hellgate. During her stay in Missoula, Malfrid discovered she didn't like crunchy granola, could wear long dresses to school and developed a liking for American music.

Malfrid took classes at Hellgate that weren't available to her in Norway. Her schedule included Guitar, Concert Choir and American History.

Malfrid lived with the John R. Stevenson family of Elk Ridge. Malfrid's American sisters and brother attending Hellgate are Jim, senior; Judy, junior, and Laurie, sophomore.

Malfrid comes from Klepp, a village on the southwestern coast of Norway. In Norway she attended school in the neighboring village of Byrne.

Cindy Biggerstaff

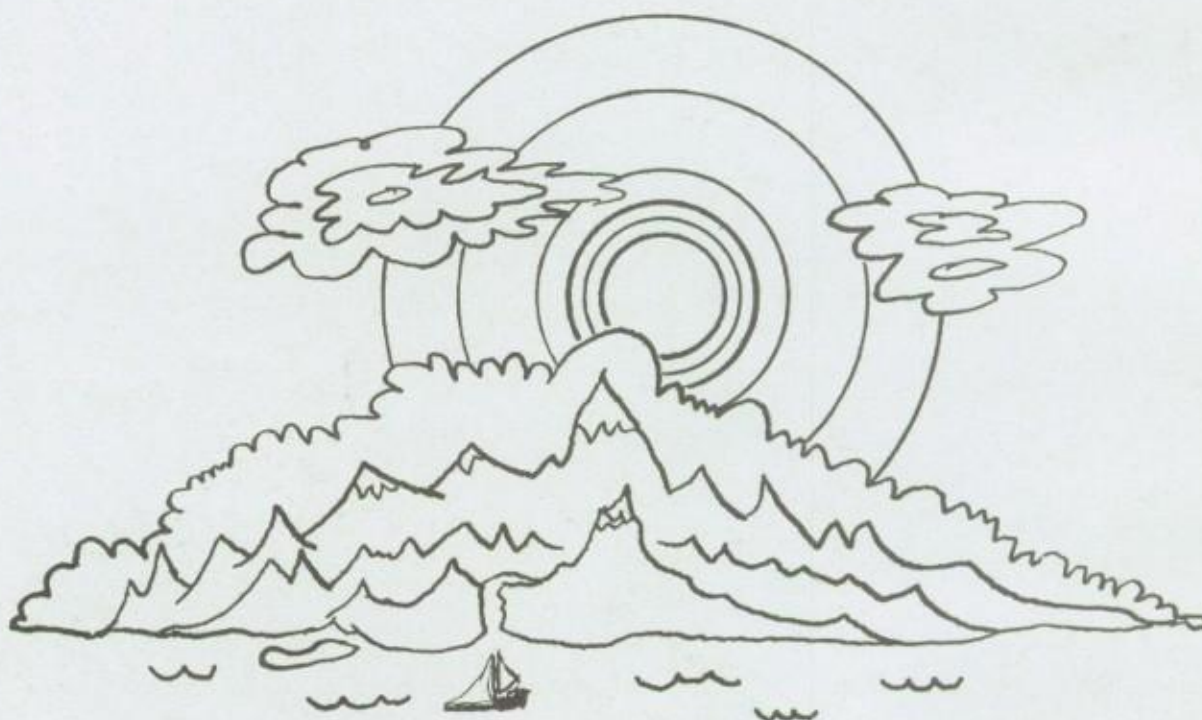

Cindy shows true culinary skill while making her first loaf of bread.

Cross country skiing, the Norwegian language and formalized education were just a few of the adventures Cindy Biggerstaff had to conquer while she was in Norway and an AFS exchangee. Apart from her difficulties in language and her isolation from home events, Cindy felt enthusiastic over her first cross country skiing experience.

Cindy stayed with the Arsinn Klakegg family in Langesand, Norway, which at the time of her stay had a son enrolled in the AFS program in Wisconsin. Cindy's subject load consisted of eight subjects. Some of these were Old Norsk, an ancient Norwegian dialect; religion, and Norwegian history.

Junior Miss

Keep on smilin'!

Laurie Peck captured the title of Missoula's Junior Miss and other Hellgate girls carried off five of the six awards in the 1974 pageant.

Laurie simpered her way into the hearts of judges and spectators alike with a humorous cutting about "Eloise", a vivacious six-year-old. Laurie also received the Spirit of Junior Miss Award voted by the contestants themselves.

First runner-up was Hellgate's Barbara Koostra who performed a flawless clarinet solo. Barb also received the Scholastic and Talent Awards.

Lynn French was named third runner-up after demonstrating her prowess on the balance beam.

Sentinel's Jeris Thorson captured second runner-up.

Other Hellgate girls participating in the pageant were Carol Chaffee, on the uneven parallel bars and Glenda Crooks, reciting an original poem.

Laurie was awarded $275 worth of scholarships, donated by Missoula merchants, and the use of a sleek new 1974 sports car, during her reign.

The contestants were judged on general intelligence, talent, poise and appearance, physical fitness and scholastic ability.

National Merit Semi - Finalists

SEMI-FINALISTS — Kathy Magone and Kathy Holden.

Katherine Holden and Kathleen Magone were chosen as Hellgate's 1974 National Merit Semifinalists. The two girls scored among the highest in the nation on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT/NMSQT). The girls were rated in the top 2 per cent of the millions of graduating seniors throughout the nation.

In order to become finalists, the semifinalists first must be endorsed by their school officials. Then they must pass a second test and show their academic records and other accomplishments and honors.

"Hellgate should be very proud of these intelligent, hard-working individuals who have been rated so highly in national competition," said Principal Roger Eble.

The students receiving the highest scores in each state were moved to the semifinalist category. These students will now be eligible for college Merit Scholarships in the spring.

The commended students have been recognized for their excellent performance on the PSAT/NMSQT, even though their scores did not qualify them for the semi-finalist status.

The PSAT/NMSQT is a national test given to interested high school juniors. It is given in 17,000 schools to over one million students across the country.

Quill and Scroll is an honorary organization of outstanding journalism students.

In order to be chosen as a member, the candidates must be juniors or seniors, in the top one third of their class, show outstanding work in at least one phase of journalism and be approved by none other than journalism advisor John A. Forssen.

Hearst Foundation Scholarship

Kathy Holden was one of two students in the state to win $1,000 Hearst Foundation Youth in Government education scholarship. This scholarship accompanies the opportunity to participate in an internship program sponsored by the U.S. Senate Advisory Committee.

The recipient must agree to take two years of U.S. Government or related subjects in college in order to receive full scholarship benefits.

The internship program, sponsored by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation, included visits with the President and vice president, Montana's senators, and other government legislators and leaders.

Kathy received her scholarship because of her high score on a Youth in Government test distributed and directed by state school officials. Kathy Holden was a two-year member in National Honor Society, a co-chairman of Students for the Equal Rights Amendment Club, a National Merit Semifinalist and a Model United Nations delegate. She was also in student government as a student council representative.

Among Emily's activities were; Troubadour in which she was editor, Thespians, Chevaliers, Children's Theater and was the recipient of an Interlochen Scholarship. Emily also participated in Girls State and was a Student Council representative.

DAR

Elizabeth Reinhardt was selected as Hellgate's Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) representative in the state DAR award competition. Three girls were nominated and reviewed by a Hellgate faculty board. The names of the two other girls were not disclosed.

Upon confirmation, Elizabeth took a DAR test based on citizenship and knowledge of American Government. This test, along with tests from representatives of 100 other high schools in the state, is reviewed by a state DAR board. The person with the best test score is given the DAR award.

Soroptimist Youth Award

Al Warner was announced the first place winner of the 1974 Youth Citizenship Award sponsored by the local Soroptimist Club. Al received an award of merit for his achievements in community service, academic accomplishments, dependability and leadership. Al was Hellgate's student body president. He attended Boys State in Helena and was one of two boys in Montana elected to attend Boys Nation in Washington D.C. He was a member of the speech and debate teams and has placed high in debate tournaments.

Soroptimist Girl Of The Quarter

Kathleen Magone was chosen Girl of the Quarter by the local Soroptimist Club. Kathleen, chosen on the basis of her outstanding leadership abilities, high character, extracurricular activities and scholastic qualities, received a silver charm bracelet, symbolic of her achievements. She also attended the monthly Soroptimist dinner, where she told club members of her future college plans. Four girls from Hellgate, Sentinel, Sacred Heart and Seeley Swan are chosen each year by the Soroptimists to be recognized. Kathy was a National Merit Semifinalist, two-year member and president of Hellgate's National Honor Society, president of American Field Service and a member of Chevaliers.

Junior Olympics

Rob Reesman finished seventh in the National AAU Junior Olympic Cross Country Championships. There were 55 entries in the race. Reesman's time was 14:58, just seconds behind the winning time of Steve Allen from Cheyenne.

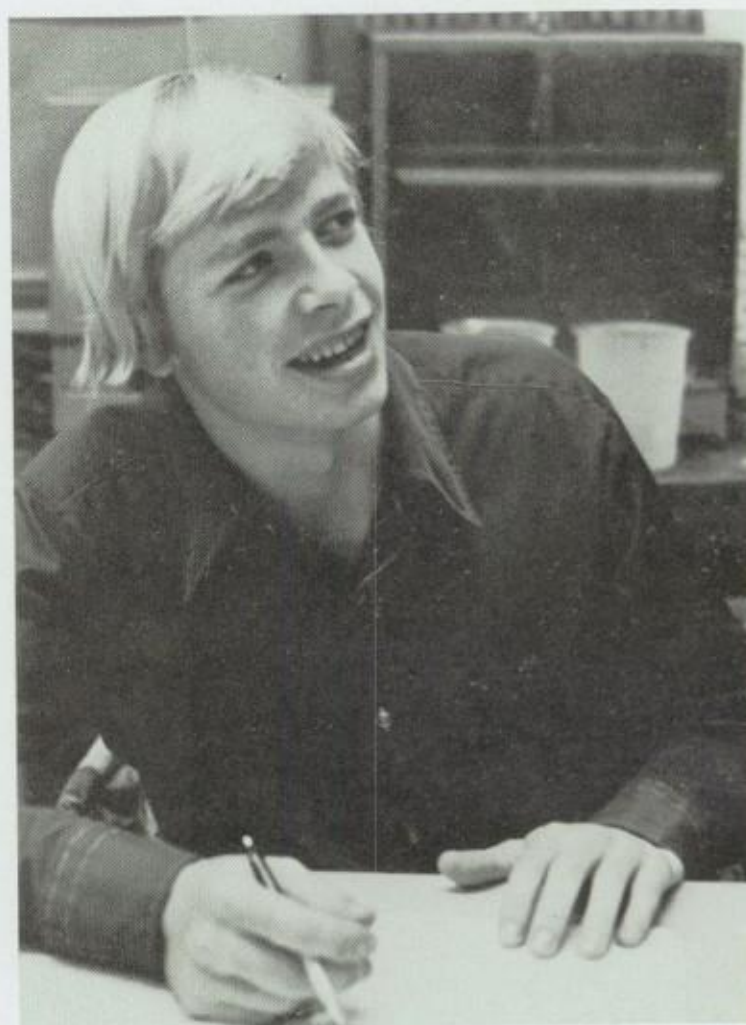

Reesman was Hellgate's Most Valuable Cross Country Runner in 1973. He also was among three runners to receive Knight-head tie tacs for meeting lettering requirements, running in state meets, being in cross country for three years and being on the Knight team which placed first or second every year.

Science Talent Winner

Jay A. Cusker, Hellgate senior, has been named to the honors group of competitors in the 33rd Westinghouse Science Talent Search. Cusker did his research on the "Effects of Substrate on the Successional Stage and Pigmentation of Lichens." Three Hundred students from across the country were chosen to the honors group from more than 1,100 entrants. The winning students were selected on the basis of individual science project reports, the student's general scholastic ratings and recommendations from teachers.

Promotion of student-teacher relationships and expansion of class electives were major objectives of Curriculum Committee. Students were encouraged to channel their constructive criticism of classes through the committee.

Physical education modifications were discussed. Suggestions were that students be allowed to choose when they wanted P.E. during their four-year stay.

Opinion polls were of utmost importance to the student-controlled committee on evaluating courses. Hellgate, in 1973-74 continued to be one of the few schools in Montana, the faculty and administration of which listens to students' opinions concerning curriculum.

That was hardly the case since deadlines had to be met, copy had to be written and at the same time, Halberd members had to constantly be on the look out for fresh new ideas.

MUN Ninth Session Begins Monday

On Nov. 12-14, the ninth session of Model United Nations (MUN) will be called to order at the University Center ballroom, said Mr. Willis Curdy, advisor.

MUN is a mock United Nations session in which rules and procedures used in the actual UN will be used.

Participants are placed in country delegations and present resolutions to the assembly, Mr. Curdy said. Approximately 200 students from all over Montana will attend.

University students and advisors will act as judges. The criteria for the judging will be participation, realistic representation and diplomacy. Delegations ranking high in the judging will receive recognition as outstanding, Mr. Curdy said.

Hellgate is bringing 10 delegations representing 10 countries. Delegation chairmen are: Mark Beaufait, North Vietnam; server corps; Dan Crowley, Mexico; Eric Giere, Tanzania; Jim Halsten, Peru; Nancy Maxson, Bangladesh; Jerry Olsen, Ghana; Pat Olsen, Albania; and Al Warner, France. The delegation chairmen for Tiberia and Ireland have not yet been selected, said Mr. Curdy.

At least 50 countries will be represented at the MUN session, he added.

It wasn't fair to the people who were working hard to be able to stand around and wait for those people who showed late or didn't show up at all," said Mr. Wulff.

The 56 scripts came 14 days late and were improperly filed, so the play got off to a bad start, Mr. Wulff said.

...but the majority would probably rather be using time for their own personal concerns. Yet at the same time, remember that teachers are under the rule of the administration, to which the monitoring policy belongs. Teachers aren't given a choice either.

Since the school is executing the plan, including the administration. Since when has the school? The more students, the more students. According to people experienced than we. Shortly after the day. Seniority and with respect of youth, maturity and insight. It's a shame to put one up on even. It seems a shame if that is the case.

Student rights are in hand in hand, of course. The responsible monitoring system, unless the monitor's role. It has said he will not, can still go on take his books to the library.

It is the noisemaker and thief who is bothered by the system: his business.

Although personal law withheld, it will be a monitoring system is.

We'd hate to see the chaos student control or the administration to listen and be aware of opinions is one thing, but student domination. Teachers and administrators aren't an ogre or student myth holds. If they didn't want to be here, they wouldn't be here. School isn't a game of hide-and-seek. That conception of school is as one of the persons one finds here.

Key Club

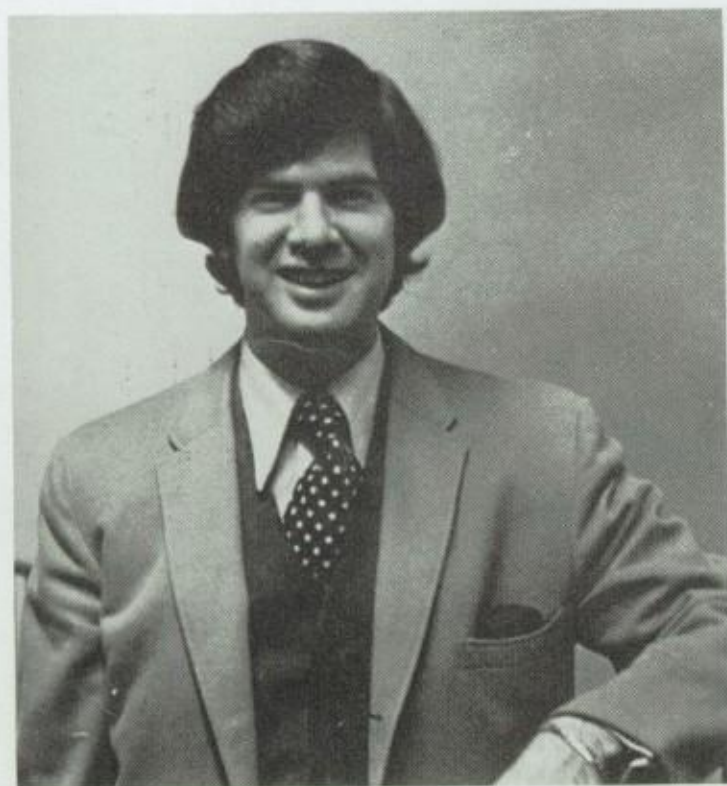

"This is probably the best membership Key Club has had in four years. The club has fine potential. More fellows should utilize this potential," exclaimed Advisor John Koelbel in view of the accomplishments of the 1973-74 Key Club.

"Key" service projects conducted by the club included raising funds for the Muscular Dystrophy drive, the Heart Fund and the Walk for Mankind. Members assisted at the Senior Citizens' Christmas Party, assisted the Red Cross blood bankers, sold apples with the Kiwanis Club and were hosts for the Sadie Hawkins Hoe down.

Officers were Frank Gaul, president; Rich Forbis and Doug Golie, co-vice-presidents; Mike Gaub, secretary, and Mike Smith, treasurer.

S Club truly lived up to the name service. The club, sponsored by the Soroptimist Club, participated this year in such service projects as a river clean-up, giving Halloween parties for children, visiting senior citizens at rest homes and gift wrapping at Christmas. The members also donated their time to the UNICEF "trick or treat" program, which benefited underprivileged children in other parts of the world.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleaders were victims of various mishaps. Junior Varsity Cheerleader Connie Weston broke a leg, Robyn Harbison was plagued by mononucleosis and Janet Tennant had to be careful of her bad knees. But the year was not all bad. Varsity cheerleaders had the rare treat of being flown to Libby by Judy Stevenson's mother for a basketball game.

The year was also full of firsts for the cheerleaders. It was the first time the faculty and a panel of students chose the cheerleaders. In the past, cheerleaders were selected by a vote of the student body. For the first time in five years the girls got to ride with the players to the games.

When they weren't busy practicing cheering, the girls were raising money by washing cars and selling snow cones for new uniforms.

Always eager to promote Hellgate spirit, Pep Club's fifty members planned new "pep" strategies. The girls painted signs and operated concessions at games to earn money for new gold and red sweaters. The 1973 Knights football squad had the most rewarding year Coach Gary Trenary had ever experienced. Trenary said the team as a whole had combinations of good character, easy ability, to work with, and great attitudes with outstanding humor to make such a successful season. The boys answered all challenges with willingness to work and determination.

Captains for the season were Steve Anderson, Rick Koeplin, Gary Manchester and Bob Pettit. Mr. Trenary had four assistant coaches this year. They were Joe Caciari, Kevin Hammond, Russ Pilcher and Ken Walt.

Doug Golie was voted Most Valuable Player and Outstanding Offensive Back by his teammates at the end of the 1973 season. Other awards went to Rick Koeplin for the Outstanding Defensive Back, Outstanding Offensive Lineman was Bob Pettit, Outstanding Defensive Lineman was Ben Harbison, Inspirational Award went to Gary Manchester and Most Improved Player was Steve Fairbank.

Six boys were selected for the Western Division All Conference football team. Those chosen were defensive end Steve Fairbank, linebackers Gary Manchester and Rick Koeplin, defensive back Bob Pettit, offensive guard Steve Swarthout and running back Doug Golie. Final All-State selections were defensive players Gary Manchester and Bob Pettit.

Coach Trenary said the defense was superb this year. The defensive secondary set a Class AA record for least yardage allowed in the season. The defensive team broke the old AA record and set a new school record.

Sophomore Football

The strength and quickness displayed by many of the sophomore football players helped in making five wins and three losses for the 1973 football season.

Coach Bob Casey said 46 boys participated in football this year. Of the total, Mr. Casey predicted that 30 of the boys will be playing varsity by their senior year.

Outstanding players for the year were Randy Seaman, Randy Venn, Shawn Clouse and Al Riefflin. Coach Casey said he was especially impressed by Randy Seaman's natural feel and outstanding potential for football. He said Randy should be playing varsity next year.

Two starting linemen, Mark Huguet and Mike Evans, were unable to finish the season due to injuries received late in the season.

Coach Casey said he is looking forward to next year's sophomores and hoping for an outstanding team.

Frosh Football

Reds

Strong determination and great humor proved to be key items to pull the 1973 Hellgate Reds football team to its peak.

Coach Glen Harper said his defensive squad was excellent. Outstanding players were Dan Lake and Mike Lowe. The coach said the team was great to work with.

The tremendous strength displayed by the defense helped in establishing a season record of 4 wins, 3 losses.

Coach Harper said the only downfall was that boys, when entering football, do not get in shape before practice. If they would just get prepared before then, they could start the season strong.

Golds

The Hellgate Golds football team was one of strength and quickness in the 1973 season. Coach Ron Jones said he had an extremely quick group of boys to combine for a strong team which ended the season with a 2-4 record.

Although the record wasn't heavy in the win column, the boys learned a lot of football fundamentals and strategy. They were hard workers and the coach said the boys have future champ characteristics if they continue with their hard work and practice.

Both the Reds and Golds teams combine to make the Knights, and they should be a good squad.

Plowing through 18 inches of snow and the Sentinel girls' defense, the Hellgate Knighties emerged victorious with a score of 6 to 0. The record became 7 wins for Hellgate and 1 win for Sentinel.

Due to the great amount of snow, passing was extremely difficult. The Powder Puffers had to resort mostly to running plays in which they slithered through slippery slush.

The score of the ball game was the result of the Montana playoff rule. Through the whole regulation game the teams battled each other to a scoreless finish. During the overtime Hellgate scored 6 points by outgaining Sentinel with 35 yards.

Coach Ron Jones prepared the 1973 Hellgate Powder Puff football team. The girls practiced twice a day, rain or snow, to develop an especially strong and hard hitting defense and quick offensive team.

Mr. Jones said he enjoyed coaching the girls and the humor in watching girls play, as well as their sometimes non-existent plays.

Boys Cross Country

The varsity Cross Country team started the 1973 season on a winning note and extended last year's undefeated string from 9 wins to 15 straight wins before missing the state championship trophy by 1 point to Butte Central.

During the season the top 5 runners were a mixture of sophomores, juniors, and seniors, but when the pressure was put on in the state meet, it was the seniors who grabbed the top five places for Hellgate.

Rob Reesman took 1st place at state, that win being his 18th consecutive victory. The other young men who did an extremely good job were Pat Groshong 7th, Neil Cole 10th, Mike Rasmussen 11th, Dan Hunter 27th, junior Tim Rasmussen 31st and sophomore Steve Hanks in the upper half of 98 runners.

The 1973 season was the third successful season in a row for the team. In 1971 Hellgate missed 1st place by one point, taking second place. In 1972 the Hellgate harriers took 1st place, and in 1973 once more second place. Reesman, Mike Rasmussen and Neil Cole have been on all three of these successful teams.

Reesman, who did an outstanding job of running, along with Rasmussen and Cole, helped establish a tradition of an extremely strong cross country team for Hellgate.

The Hellgate JV team was led by Rick Hanson, Bill Rolshoven, Steve Hanks, Scott Larsen and Dan Lewis. The JV runners won all 8 meets this year, with 7 of the 8 scores being a perfect score of 15.

Reesman was voted "Most Valuable Runner" and Rick Hanson was voted "Most Improved Runner" by the team.

Coach Larry McKinney says he is looking for a strong team for next year.

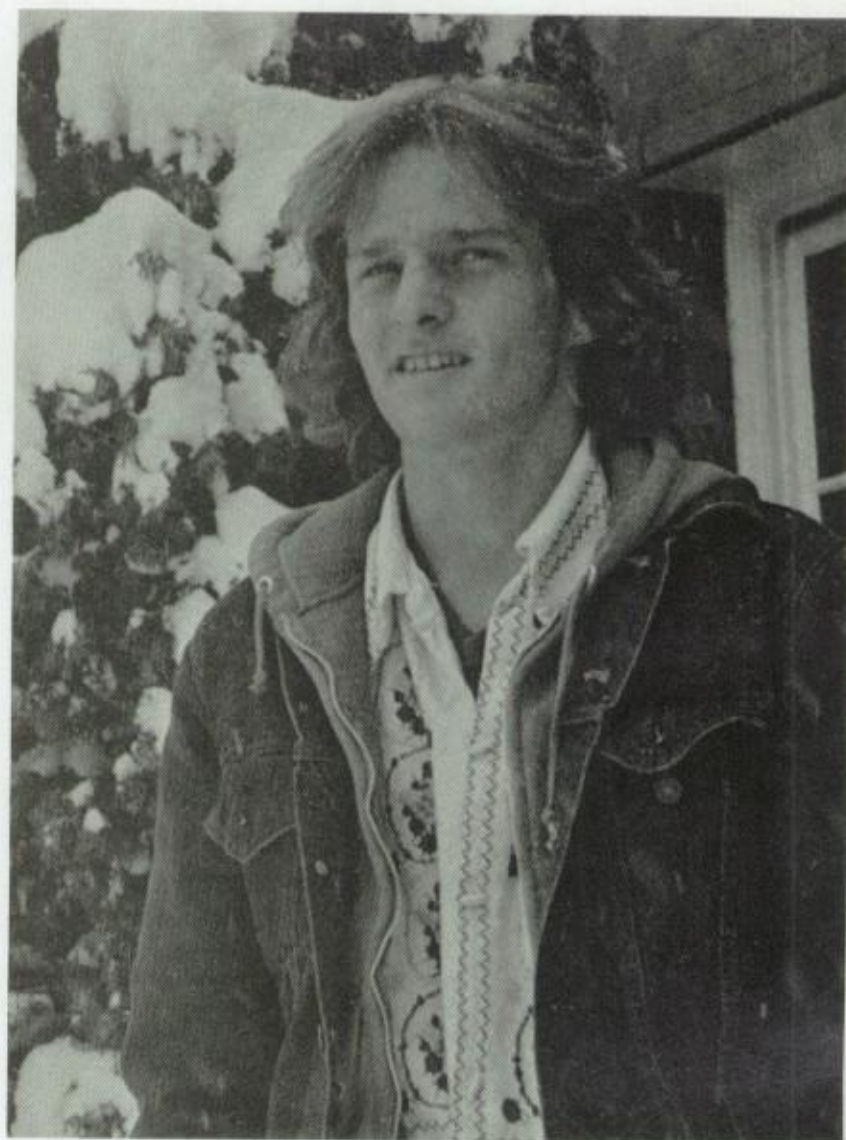

Hellgate runner Mike Rasmussen strides neck to neck with a purple turkey for a win.

Rob Reesman, the most outstanding cross country runner in Hellgate's history, established records throughout his three-year career. During his sophomore year he grabbed 2nd place in state, and he was 1st place individual champion as a junior and senior. During Reesman's last two years, he won 18 consecutive races.

The 1973 Cross Country team won only two meets this year due to the fact that the team was young and inexperienced. The team lost its other meets, but each course provided new experience for each of the girls.

Coach Charlotte Manthie's most outstanding girl was Belinda McDonald, a senior, who has been on varsity since her freshman year. Not having Belinda on the team next year is going to hurt.

Coach Manthie's top girls for the season were Belinda, Susan Nokleby, Sue Gooley, Denise Giffin, Terry Nyquist, Gail Verlanic and Karen Schiweck.

Coach Manthie said she lost two very good runners, Teresa Nokleby, and Terrie Browne due to injuries early in the season. The coach is optimistically looking forward to next season.

Girls Intramural Volleyball

The intramural program for girls included many sports: softball, bowling, basketball and volleyball.

In volleyball the girls played strictly for winning. Each team had one main goal; the championship.

Helping hands and team work are an essential to a winning team.

Commencing the season with a squad of unknown ability, Coach Jim Lodge tutored the 1973 girls basketball team through a hard but successful season. Because girls basketball was in its beginning stage this season, Coach Lodge felt the girls played remarkably well. Sharon Gleason was the most outstanding player and captain of the team.

The girls performed at a high degree of efficiency plus determination in establishing a season record of seven wins and five losses. They also earned 2nd in league play and qualified for divisionals.

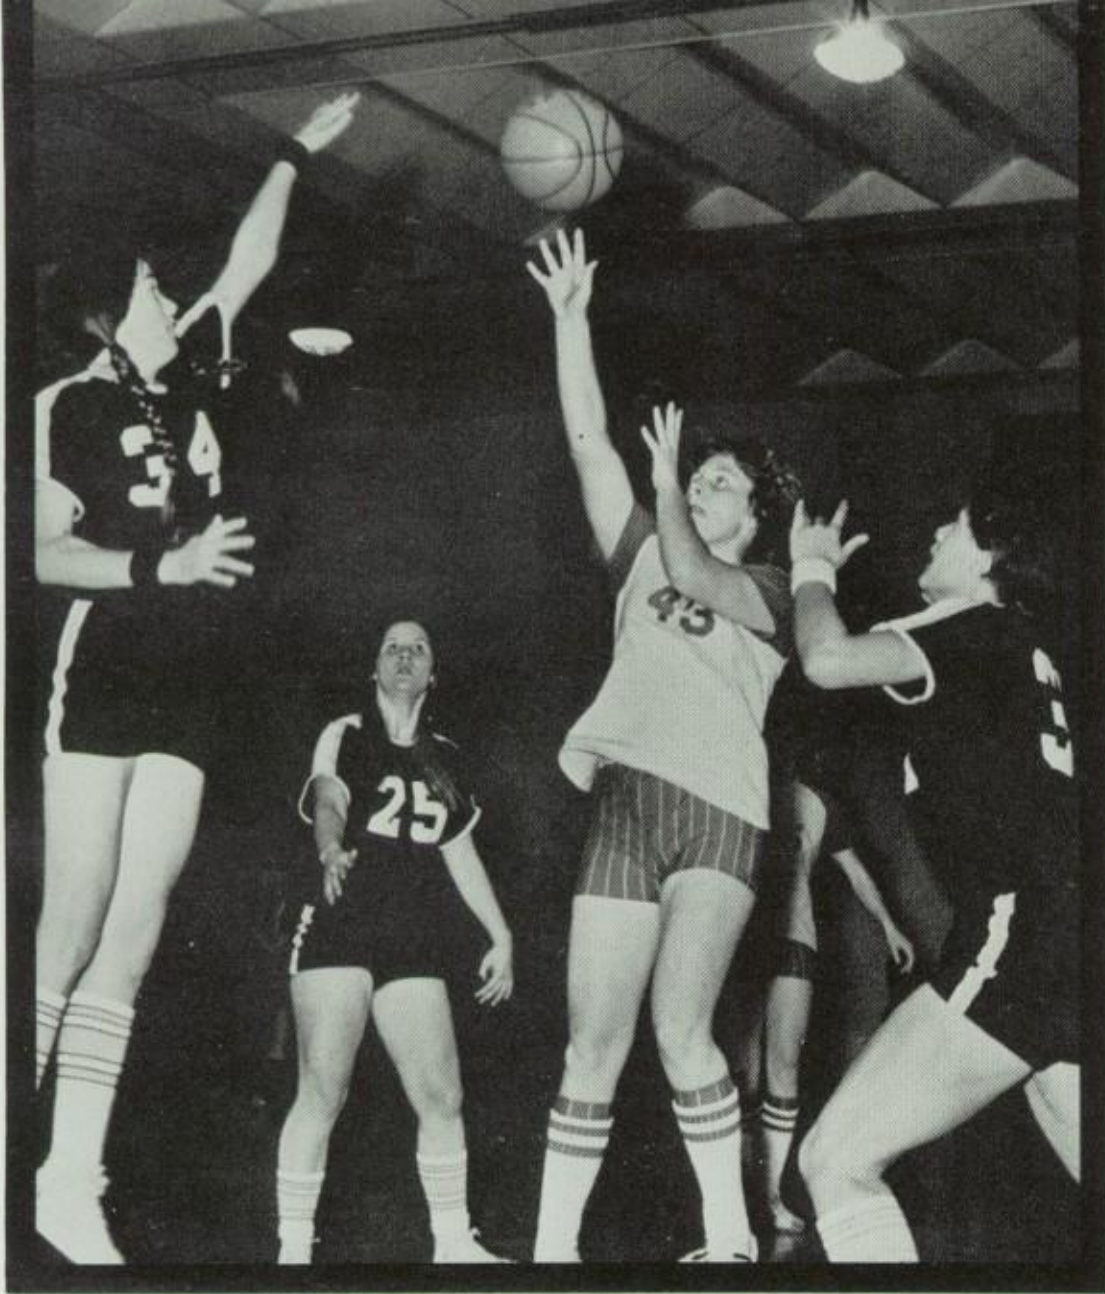

Coach Lodge said that he is losing only two girls next year, Terri Lassise and Val Jahner. Mr. Lodge feels that his team will be outstanding next year.

Boys Gymnastics

How long do I have to stay up here?

My arms, they're stuck!

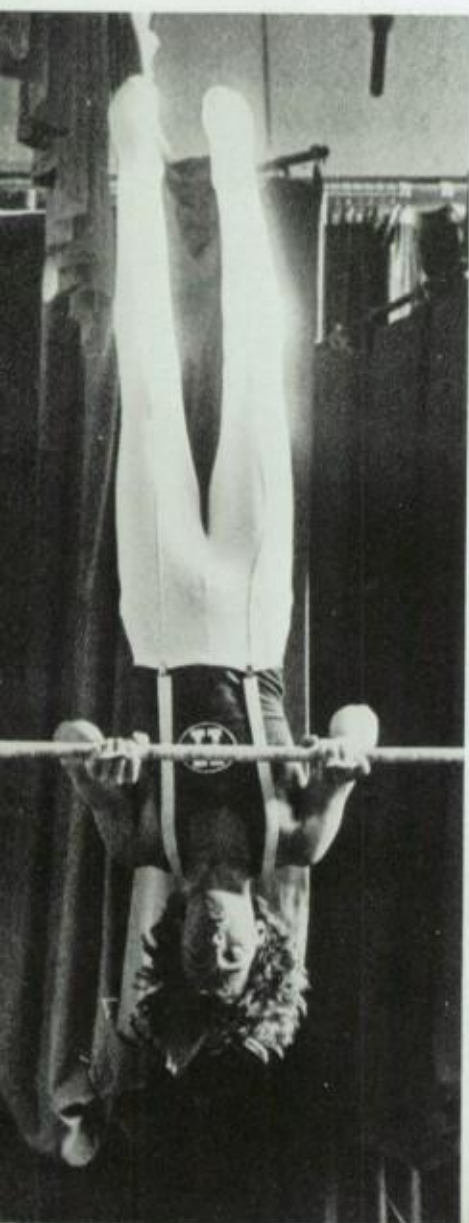

Gymnastics of all sports in high school is probably the best sport for one who desires muscle tone, day by day evidence of his progress and improved stature and coordination.

Hellgate provides, at practically no cost to the participants, complete gymnastic equipment for students who wish to be in an all-year sport. The gymnastics program has grown so that this year two assistant coaches were added. Kyle Boyce and Lynn Munro have brought up Hellgate's program to reach the other teams in the state that have a broader gymnastics program.

On the boys team, among the outstanding members were Kelly Crisp, who is considered one of the better gymnasts in the state, Shawn McAdams, considered one of the better high bar men in the state, and Robin Hood, who should be one of the top men on the rings next year.

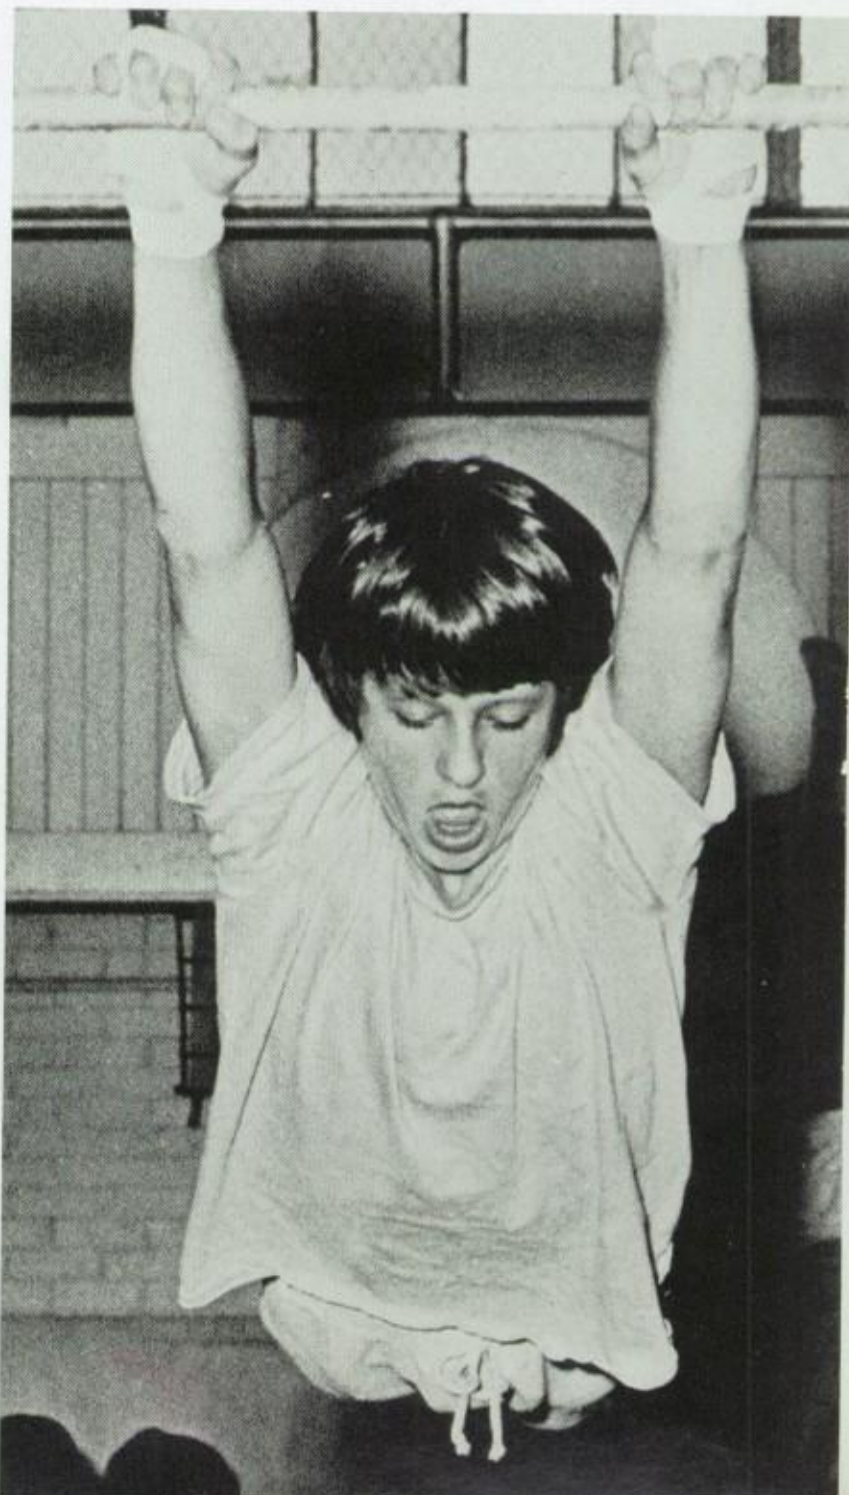

Coach Jim Miller said he felt his boys team had great potential this year. He also said they have been doing an outstanding job as a team and also as individuals.

The 1973-74 girls gymnastics team consisted of a strong team of very hard working girls. Coach Ron Miller and cadet coach Lynn Munro worked with the girls to produce great performers for the season.

The team received top work from Jackie Cheatham, who is one of the top balance beam competitors in the state; Sue Nurse, Margie Christian, Nancy Dalton, Darlene Castonguay and Melinda Wolfe.

The 1973-74 wrestling season was highlighted by individual performers in gaining recognition for the Hellgate Knights. A few of the many standouts for the season were Gus Campbell, Ed Campbell, Steve Resner and Tony Koures.

As this year's team soon discovered, wrestling is an entirely different experience as opposed to team sports. It encompasses competing in front of hundreds of people knowing that a win is entirely up to the individual. His teammates cannot cover his mistakes, and there is no one to blame but himself if he loses. Conversely, the exhilaration felt in winning is heightened because he knows he has won on his own.

Encouraging coaches were Head Coach Lanny Bryant and Assistant Coaches Bob Wiesner, Mike Oke and Larry Bicha.

Hellgate Junior Varsity wrestling began its season on Nov. 15 with practices lasting between two and three hours.

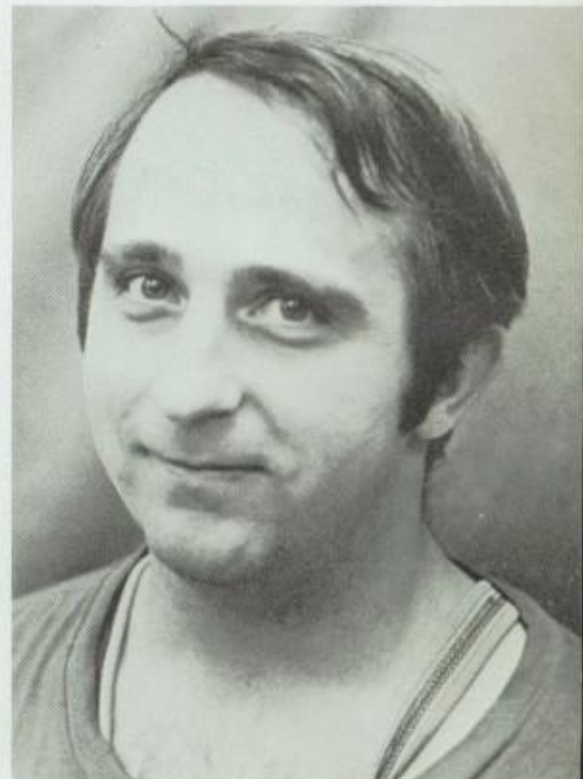

A winning wrestler is one who can think calmly and keep his head when he is exhausted. This ability is developed through the individual's experience as a wrestler. This is the function of the Junior Varsity team; to give each of the boys as many matches as possible so he will "get the job done" as a varsity wrestler.

Coaches Bob Wiesner and Mike Oke were the men who worked with these JV boys throughout the year to prepare them for the varsity year to come.

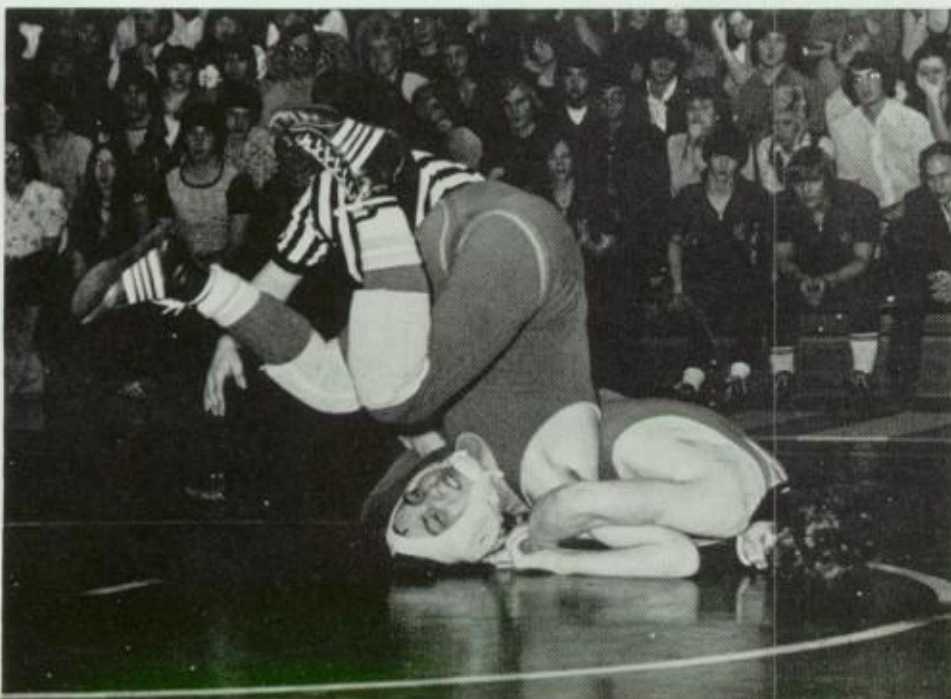

Working hard all year long and putting forth much effort was the freshman wrestling team, coached by Mr. Larry Bicha. The main purpose of the freshman squad was to acquaint the boys with the basic fundamentals of wrestling, all positions, and to make them realize the dedication necessary in wrestling.

Curt Jovin, Kevin McDowell, Roger Coombs, Joel Cusker, Tim Bowers, Ken Barker, Keith Mobley and Keith Gyles proved to do an excellent job of wrestling their freshman year.

Coach Russ Sheriff was very pleased with the performance of the 1973-74 varsity squad. He felt that the boys were inexperienced at the start of the season, but proved through the season that they were capable of playing good varsity ball.

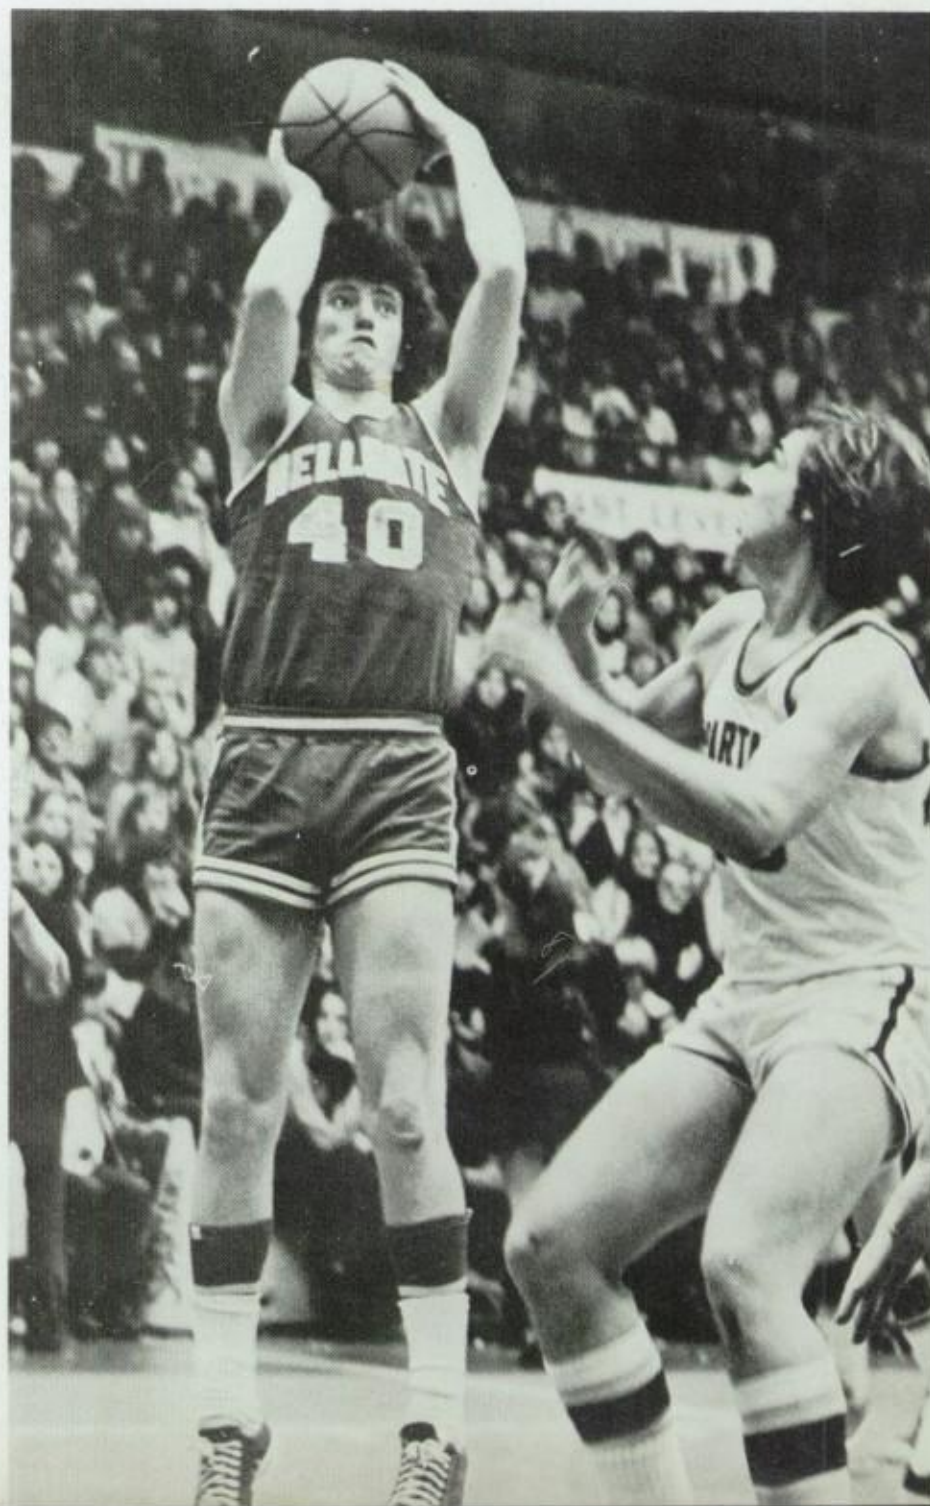

Sheriff said his most outstanding boys were seniors Mark Reich and Howard Cotten and sophomore Blaine Taylor.

Assistant Coaches Joe Caciari, Dick Dunn, Tom Demmons, and Jim Heydon did a good job working under Russ Sheriff. Coach Sheriff said he was especially happy to have the help of Tom Demmons.

Through hard practice and determination the JV basketball team is now ready to perform as a varsity team next year. Coach Tom Demmons worked with the boys to make sure they know all the tricks and fundamentals of basketball. The boys played a good season.

Coach Demmons said he was happy with the good humor and great personality that his team had. "It makes coaching and practice a lot more fun when there are a few smiles on the court," said Coach Demmons. He further stated that even though the boys joked around and had fun that they also were willing to work strenuously.

Soph Coach
Richard Dunn

The sophomore basketball season went well due to hard work put forth by the boys. Coach Richard Dunn said he had several boys who played well above average. During the middle of the season the team had a slump but managed to come out of it.

Coach Dunn said he had an extremely large squad this year consisting of 18 players. Because of this unusually big team he could not give each boy enough individual coaching, and he was proud of the playing the boys put forth. Mike Larson was out of uniform for 3 weeks with a broken foot.

Reds

Coach Joe Caciari had a very competitive Reds team this season. His boys learned the basics and fundamentals to eventually become varsity players.

Starters for the year were Loren Larson, Henry Brotzman, Frank Jobe, Mike Lowe and John Brittner. Leading rebounders were Loren and Frank. The top roundball scorers for the season were Jobe, Larson and Lowe.

Coach Caciari was extremely pleased with the performance that his team put forth this year. He stated that this year's team was more experienced and played better ball than usual.

Golds

The freshman Golds basketball team had a great deal of potential this 1973-74 season. At the beginning of the season 20 boys went out and by the finish of the season only 13 boys were still playing.

Starters for the season were Bill Diehl, Greg Reich, Steve Fine, Dan Lake, Paul Larson, Gerry Steinbrenner, Charlie Clubb and Mike Raymond. The leading rebounders for the year were Bill Diehl, Greg Reich, Steve Fine and Dan Lake. These hard working boys are the beginning of a strong varsity team to come.

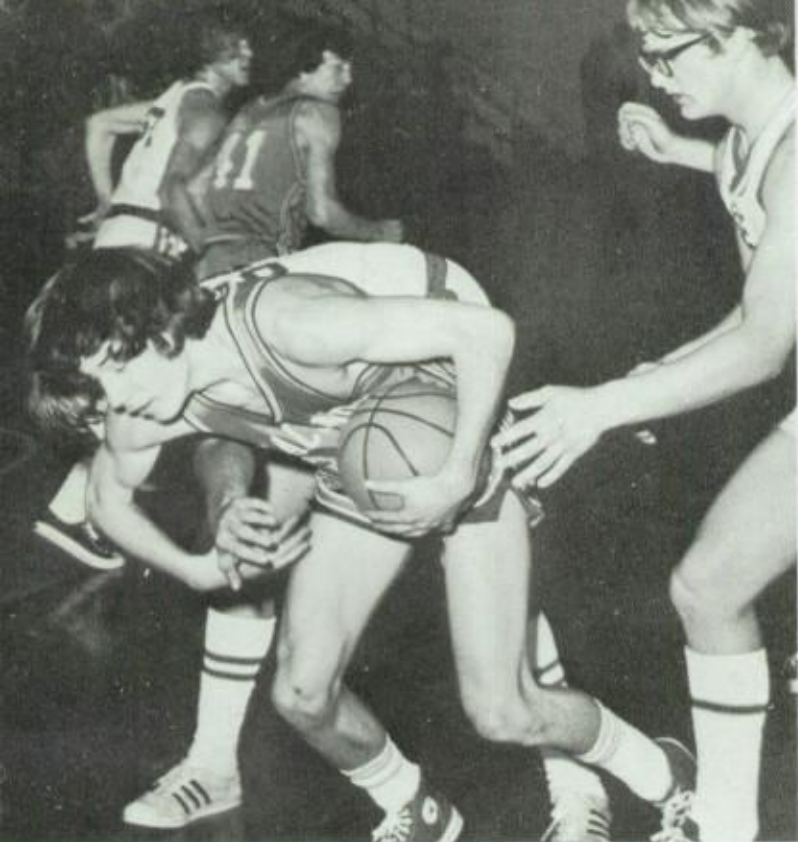

Coach Jim Heydon was very pleased and proud of his team this season and hopes that next year's freshmen are as determined and willing to work as this year's boys were.

Hellgater Paul Larson (24) caught high in action.

Equal rights for women! That was the motto of Hellgate's new group, Students for the Equal Rights Amendment. The group was formed to make the Equal Rights Amendment known to the students and to raise funds for its support. Equality in the eyes of the law, regardless of sex, is the goal of the Equal Rights Amendment. This would include the same pay for jobs performed by men and women and selective service for women. SERA disbanded when the 1974 legislature voted on the amendment.

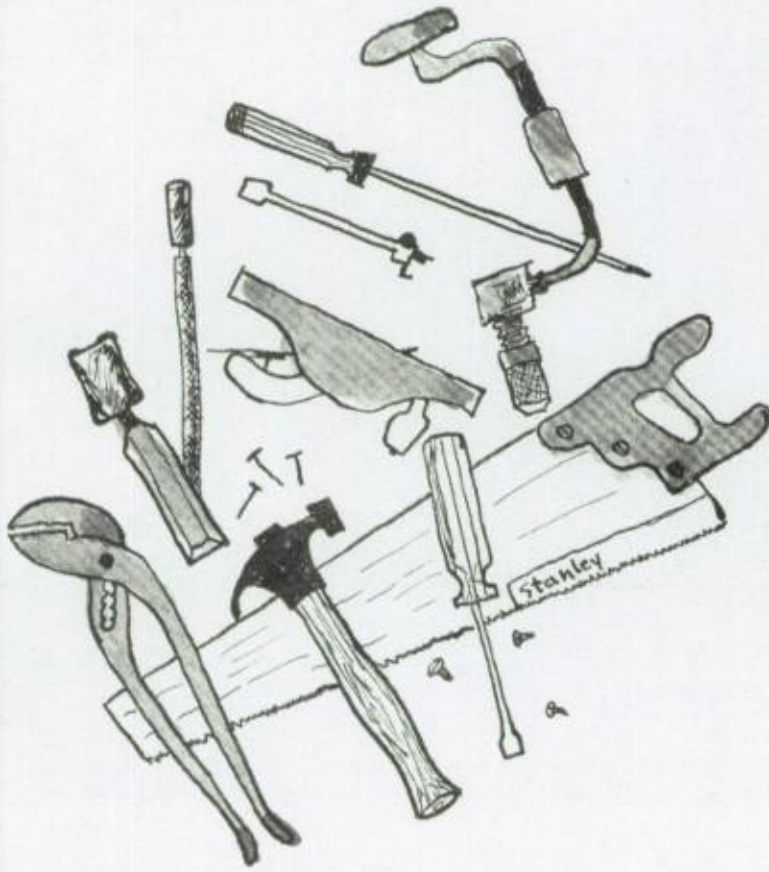

Among SERA projects was a student opinion poll, in which students voted for the amendment three to one. SERA also helped the League of Women Voters take a city-wide survey on the amendment. The group hoped to charter a bus to Helena while the ERA was being debated. But mostly, SERA helped the Missoula ERA Ratification Council raise money to support the bill.

Just think, girls; some day, while you're serving in the army, you can thank the SERA!

SERA Club members count up the results of the student opinion poll concerning the ERA.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America

You've heard of the Summer Olympics and of the Winter Olympics, but have you heard of the Vocational Olympics? The members of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) participate in hammering, drawing and welding events. This happens every spring when all the clubs get together and compete for medals for best welder, draftsman, and metalworker. They hoped to bring back as many medals as in previous years.

The VICA program includes helping various service groups improve the community by doing such things as building toys for Head Start, a community action program for underprivileged children of Missoula.

1000 Mile Club

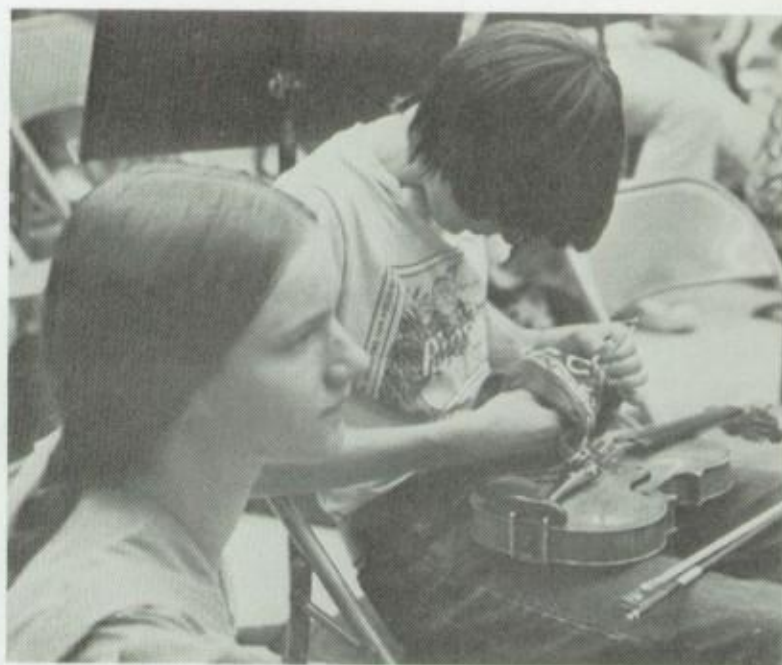

1,000 Mile Club was a group of students whose sole purpose was to run 1,000 miles in a 12-month period. That averages out to be over 3 miles daily. Each runner kept track of his own miles. At the end of the 12-month period, those running 1,000 miles received a T-shirt! But that wasn't their only reward! They had the satisfaction of knowing their bodies were in excellent condition and that they could accomplish what very few others could.

"Good Vibes"; that was the story of Hellgate's Orchestra. But success did not come easily. The orchestra, which was made up of more than 50 students, practiced fourth and fifth periods, as well as Monday nights with Sentinel's orchestra. Only after much practice did they attend the state orchestra festival in Bozeman, Nov. 29 through Dec. 1.

The orchestra appeared in a joint concert with the Missoula grade schools all-city orchestra and in the spring, attended both the district and state music festivals. Here, along with the full orchestra were various ensembles and solos. They also played at the annual spring concert and hoped for a trip to Expo 74 in Spokane.

Future Homemakers of America

Hotdog sales and foreign foods were two of the year's highlights for the Hellgate Chapter of Future Homemakers of America. Members attended a district convention in Philipsburg and the state convention in Bozeman.

Future Homemakers was formed to help each girl to develop her own personality and to form values. This was done through service projects, speakers, and sometimes just fun.

Popping pictures and rapping about photography was Photo Club's main purpose this school year. Organized in the middle of January after being moribund for the past several years, the group met every other week thereafter. Field trips to the University of Montana, Burlington Northern Railroad and guest speakers were the main projects undertaken by the Photo Club

Setting up a ham radio transmitter-receiver was the main goal of Radio Club. The transmitter was set up to communicate with other clubs and operators around the country. Four members of this year's club were amateur ham operators. Each of these novice operators worked to improve his technique of radio transmitting and receiving.

Every Thursday night a group of charming, witty, suave and debonair guys met in the resource center. Among this group were a few good chess players.

In the fall, Chess Club attempted to recruit new members by giving a blue diamond to anyone who could beat the resident champion. No one won the diamond. Later in the year, the annual chess tournament with Sentinel was played.

Plans were in the making for a tournament through the mail with Troy High School in Fullerton, CA. The various moves would be recorded on paper and mailed back and forth. This would be the first tournament between any Montana and California high schools.

Besides this unusual situation, Chess Club had only two officers. Raymond Miller, who served as president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, and Walter Congdon, piece cleaner.

The Modern Language Clubs, French, German, and Spanish, did various activities which dealt with the countries in which their language was spoken. The 120 students involved in these clubs joined together for a Christmas party and building a homecoming float.

French Club entertained its members with a slide show of France and desserts afterward. They also had an hors d'oeuvre party with French music.

Dream of a four-day camp was what enchanted the German Club. They hoped to take the German classes to a resort early in May. While they were waiting for May to come they had German dinners and a pizza party at Shakey's.

Spanish Club activities this year included a party with native speakers of Spanish and slides of Latin America. They also had treats and sang songs at their meetings throughout the year.

Freshman and Girls Choir

Freshman Choir and Girls Choir were two nonselect music groups formed to give members musical experience.

Girls choir was made up of sophomores who practiced every day during period seven. Freshman choir, which practiced every day during period three, was made up of freshman boys and girls.

Both groups participated in the Fall Concert, Christmas program, and Spring Concert. It was hoped that the members of both groups would move on to Concert Choir and possibly Mynstrelles or Chevaliers.

Mynstrelles

Ringin' through the halls on Monday nights between 7 and 9 were the voices of the Mynstrelles. This group of singing students prepared programs to be used in their many public appearances and hoped that someday they would be Chevaliers, the "top dogs" of the singing world at Hellgate.

Tim Campbell and Brenda Palmer entertain the crowd at the Junior Miss Pageant.

Singing out loud and clear are Tara Gallagher and Sandy Braaten.

Sitting on top of the music world at Hellgate were the Chevaliers. The group which in its eight year history has never received below a superior rating, practiced every Tuesday night between 7 and 9 p.m. They hoped to experience more challenge in performing for the public. The goal was achieved by entertaining at the Miss Missoula pageant, at the Veterans Hospital in Helena, on television during the Christmas Holidays and on many different occasions throughout the year. Chevaliers was the first step to stardom for its members.

Concert Band

Each day during sixth period 80 students from Hellgate's student body joined together for great times and great music. This group is known as Concert Band and includes all who play in any band, such as jazz band, marching band and pep band. Playing the more serious type of music was the Concert Band's purpose, leaving the marches, ballads and jazz to the other bands at Hellgate.

Concert Band took time out this year from its busy schedule of engagements to attend the band festival in Billings during March. The group also gave a "Happy Times" concert at the end of January and the annual Spring Concert which featured the senior solos.

Jazz Bands

Due to the overwhelming interest this year, Band Director Charles Johnson decided to have two jazz bands, the first time in Hellgate's history.

The jazz bands traveled to the annual jazz festivals in Bozeman in January. They gave concerts for the Federal Credit Union, the State Hospital Association and the Office of Education Association Convention. They also played at assemblies and wrestling matches.

Jazz band enabled the individual to create music and learn about jazz. The theme was "Improvisation Is the Heart of Jazz."

Drama Team

Winning for the drama team was as easy as one, two and three as the dramatists brought home trophies from Class AA Speech and Drama tournaments.

Drama involves more than just acting. It is selecting good literary material and observing what other schools have done with various cuttings. The team itself involves 120 persons, the biggest in all the years.

Drama team went to six major tournaments. It was the first time the team didn't depend on a few persons, but could select from many good actors and actresses.

Speech Team

The largest speech team in four years, including many underclassmen, made its first showing of 1973 at the Missoula Invitational Meet. The team consisted of 35 members, including the first brother debate team, Marty and Mark Elison, in its history.

For the first time in its eight-year history, the speech team was given local, state, and national approval to attend an out-of-state tournament. The team attended the Northwest Speech and Debate Tournament at Gonzaga University in Spokane.

The goals of the team were to gain experience in competition and in persuasion, as well as to build character, poise, and confidence.

Taking time out for a laugh are Troubadour Editors Emily Clubb, Robin Bulman and Kathy Salmonson.

Stories of love, tales of woe, and a lot of tender loving care went into Hellgate's literary publication, the Troubadour. Students submitted art work, poetry and short stories and the staff selected the work to make up the magazine. The two advisors, Mrs. Ellen Skones and Mrs. Pearl Felker, spent hours helping the staff to assemble the contributions. The Troubadour sold for 50 cents and was to come off the press in the spring.

Cinema Club

"Hey, man, where's the popcorn?"

Through the efforts of Advisor John Whalen, Cinema Club was re-organized. Members set their goal as presenting the student body with a new form of entertainment. After thumbing through many movie catalogs and taking a poll of what the students wanted to see, the group decided to show "Psycho," "Lord of the Flies," "Henry V" and "The Golden Age of Comedy" and many others. The money made went toward better movies, since Cinema Club is a non-profit organization.

Young Lifers take part in a sing along.

Young Life

That Jesus Christ is a person everyone can relate to was what Young Life tried to establish. The group attempted to present Jesus Christ to its 70 members every Monday night by singing, listening to speakers, and praying.

Young Life wasn't always engaged in serious business. Its members put wheels on beds and had races pushing the beds. Another heavy project was the Weigh-In, in which the members of the Young Life groups at Hellgate and Sentinel weighed in. Hellgate won by about two and a half tons. The members could also attend winter and summer camps.

A pie in the eye is better than two in the bush.

Outdoor Club

Outdoor Club did everything from biking to snowshoeing, including talking back to some coyotes. Members took an all-day hike up Stuart Peak, bicycled to Frenchtown, and snowshoed at Lolo Pass.

Outdoor Club, which had no officers, was originated by Becky Gordon to give students some outdoor experience and insight into nature. In a day of environmental stress, the members studied the complex problems. The goal was to help members develop their thinking about the environment.

Members suggested a wide variety of outings and strenuous efforts were made to fulfill these adventures. On an overnight trip to Wild Horse Island, suggested by Becky, members climbed a mountain in the middle of the night to listen to and answer back to coyotes.

The group of enthusiastic, hardworking young ladies jived every day during period six in the girls' gym. The routine first had to be set to music. Then all the girls had to learn the routine. Finally the routine had to be perfected in Advisor Shirley Rosengren's eagle eyes.

The Lancettes received no money from the administration or student fees, and had to sell candy to earn money for new uniforms.

Office Education Association

Office Education Association was a group of 21 junior and senior girls who joined together to promote office skills. They had speakers on "What Can be Expected from a Boss," and "What is Expected of You as an Employee." These girls sold glitter plaques of Knight football players, pumpkins, Santa Clauses and 2 cartoon characters. OEA joined with other state OEA Clubs for a convention, where they took tests on office skills such as shorthand and typing. These girls typed their way into the hearts of the student body at Hellgate.

Student Action for Education was formed to encourage students to become involved in the helping professions. Each member chose the area he was interested in and developed a project dealing with that area. Some of these projects were working in day care centers, teaching Sunday school and starting an animal sitting service. As a group, SAE helped decorate for the MEA Convention, and sold candy for additional funds. The members were hopeful that these experiences would be beneficial to their future careers.

"Stationery? Anyone want to buy some stationery?" "Maybe you need some firewood?" These were just a few of the mutterings of six Hellgate students chosen for Operation Europe during the project.

Operation Europe was a group of 27 students from Hellgate and Sentinel chosen to take part in a five-week tour of Europe during the summer of 1974. They were to be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graf, German teachers at Sentinel. Each person paid $1,500 for expenses. Additional money was earned by selling firewood and stationery, as well as by a bazaar. This will go toward such things as a trip to the Vatican, an elevator ride to the top of the Eiffel tower and numerous visits to museums, galleries, operas and concerts.

Model United Nations

Walter Congdon contemplates better days.

What is it like to be seized by Arab terrorists or to hear a speech made by "Big Daddy", the President of Uganda? The members of Hellgate's chapter of Model United Nations (MUN) witnessed these events. MUN is a group which gives the student a look at the actual functions of the United Nations. After the members had written resolutions and studied their assigned countries, they came to Missoula for their own United Nations. Once here, they attempted to pass their resolutions, first through committees and then through the General Assembly. But getting resolutions passed wasn't easy — just ask the two delegates from France who were taken hostage when their country wouldn't go along with the Arab Bloc's resolutions.

MUN disbanded after November but came together again in the spring to start working on next year's session.

American Field Service

Seeing the world through her own eyes was Cindy Biggerstaff. She was this year's foreign exchange student in Norway, sponsored by the Hellgate Chapter of American Field Service. AFS is an organization of students at Hellgate, the goal of which was to send a student abroad. They conducted money-making projects such as selling magazines, Hellgate Knight Mugs, AFS stationery, and sponsoring the Homecoming dance. The profits went toward sending next year's student, Joni Deschamps, to the country where she was to be placed. AFS also tried to acquaint the students with Malfrid Bratveit. Malfrid, a student from Norway, studied this year at Hellgate.

AFS was characterized as the fine things in life — food, good times, and international friendships.

Joni Deschamps, next foreign exchange student, is up to her mouth in the merchandise that AFS sold.

"I'll have a Butterfinger!" "Give me a Mello Mint." "What do you mean, you don't have any gum?" and the many-handed DECA candy salesmen were on their way to making small fortunes.

The Hellgate chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America worked to make the public aware of the school's Distributive Education program. This was achieved through speaking to groups and doing service projects on the local, state and national level. Some of the projects were selling candy at the Knight Spot and odds and ends in the DECA store. Nationally, DECA was host to the Western Regional Leadership Conference, attended by more than 1,500 student members and advisors. John Thoresen, a director of Spokane's Expo '74, spoke and various workshops were presented.

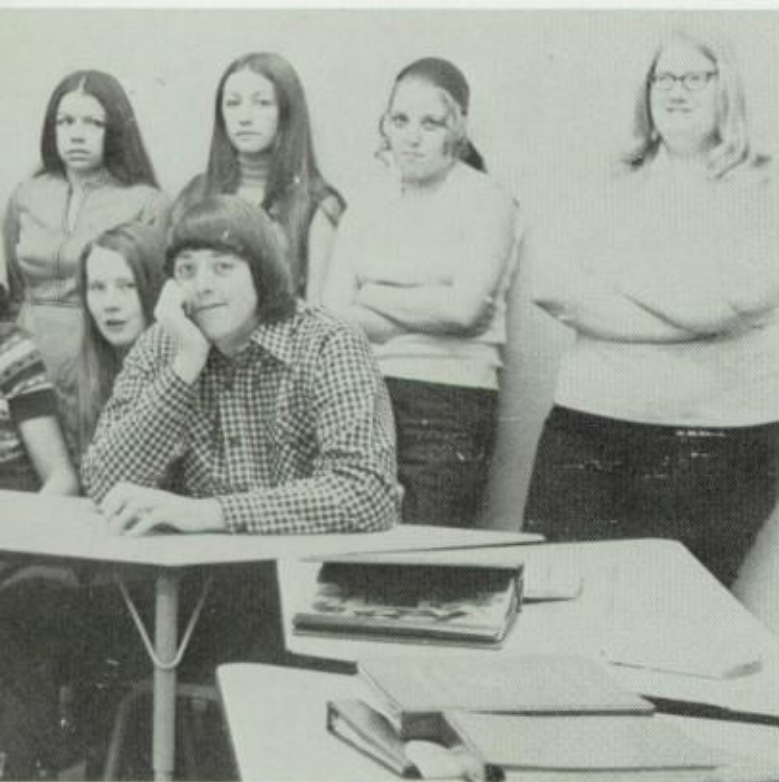

DECA offers a great opportunity to Hellgate students to learn about the world of business.

"Did you say . . . Please?"

Modern Dance is an art which consists of free and liberal movements. The Hellgate group of jumping, leaping, and sore-muscled modern dance girls got together two times a week for a modern dance "dance-a-long." These practices were two hours long at various grade schools around Missoula.

The main production, in the spring, was what the girls had in their minds as they drove the snow-packed winter streets to get to their practices or felt the blisters and aching muscles that came after the hard work.

When the girls weren't practicing, they were having bake sales or playing host to the annual Frost Fantasy. They also performed for groups outside of Hellgate when invited.

Best Class

Ma and Pa patiently wait for their loving son to come home from the Junior Central Board meeting.

Phil - Horse you enjoyed this year, despite being a big percent you okay our Intramural baseball is the best and we gonna win it all. Good luck next year.
T.H.E. Gars.

Bill

If you were any fucking stupider you might be dangerous. Next year I hope we get a different Captain. Maybe we might win a championship.
